G

I've seen my share of trouble and the mess I got into

D

When I tried to live without the Lord sin was easy to do

G

It was hard to do the right thing when I strayed from the path of good

G

Until I returned to my master like He always knew I would

I don't claim to be a prophet or a better man than you

D7

I don't claim to part the water or stand where Jesus stood

G

I don't claim a place in Heaven or a wisdom I don't have

D

G

I just claim to learn God's lesson and live within His plan

I went to school on Sundays, did all my parents said

Finished all of my church projects, said my prayers before bed

But my preacher died one weekend, my grandma the next

In shock and indignant, I questioned God's intent

I felt I'd been abandoned, God turned His back on me

I rebelled against the good life, the other side to see

I tried a lot of bad things, but I learned after all

My mistakes had made me stronger and the Lord had broke my fall
